West Virginians in Favor of White Man's Plank, But Vote Against It.

CORWELL FOR GOVERNOR

Proceedings in Accordance with Wishes of Mr. Davis-The Platform Adopted.

(By Associated Press.)

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., August 4—

The Democratic State Convention to-day for Governor. The proceeding through-out appeared to be in accordance with the wishes of Henry G. Davis, the Democratic candidate for Vice-President

There is no question about the convention being almost uranimously in favor the "white supremacy" proposition, and yet, at the request of Mr. Davis, it was kept out of the platform, receiving only 87 votes out of 574.

Mr. Davis did not attend the convention to-day, but was busy at his hotel in arranging for the campaign. He will remain here until to-morrow night in conference with State committeemen, candidates and others.

Contest For Governor.

Contest For Governor.

While there were "free-for-all" conwhile there were tree-to-all contests for minor places on the State ticket, the control of the party machinery was said to be involved in the head of the ticket. John T. McGraw, member of the National Committee for West Virginia, was opposed by former Governor AlcCorkle, Joseph Chilton and others, who had concentrated on W. R. Thompson as their favorite for Governor. Colonel McGraw first favored Judge John P. Holt, who was the Democratic candidate for Governor four years ago. In the interest of harmony Judge Holt refused to be a candidate. Colonel McGraw finally selected Senator John Corwell for the head of the ticket. It required three exciting hallots to nominate Corwell. In this contest former Senator Davis was entirely neutral.

Chairman Dalley had no sooner finished reading the platform than crieswere heard: "Where is the white man's plank?" George Byrne offered an amendment to the unanimous report, which added the "white man's" plank that had been so much talked about during the week, and an animated discussion began on that issue. The Byrne amendment was as follows:
"We believe that the destinies of West

He referred to the mixed schools and other conditions in Indiana, New York, New Jersey and Connecticut—as the dpubtful States that were wanted for Parker and Davis, and in which the colored vote was a factor.

Greetings to Parker.

At the evening session, William G. Peterkin was nominated for Secretary of Fints, J. S. Manstield for Auditor, Lawand M. D. Helnuck for Superintendent of Schools,

On motion of Colonel McGraw, the chairman of the convention was directed to telegraph greetings to Judge Parker and pledge him the electoral vote of West Virginia.

The Platform

The Platform

The Dentorm is as follows:
The Democracy of West Virginia, in convention assembled, declare:
1.—That we endorse the platform adopted by our national convention at Et. Iouis and pledge our devoted support to the candidates of that convention, Judge Alton B, Parker, a safe guadrian of our property and political rights; and Henry & Davis, our honored fellow-clitzen and trusted counsellor.

2—We arraign the Republican party in this State for its wasteful extravagance in appropriations and for its corrupt and fraudulent use of the machinery of elections, to the cnd that it might be perpetual in power at the tax-payers' expense. It has announced the burdens of government and, through the acts of its vensi placemen, has corrupted the ballot and lessened respect for our institutions. We demand the correction of these practices and cent plane, to the end that neither ourselves nor our posterity shall be deprived of the blessings of honest, popular government.

Right of Suffrage.

Right of Suffrage.

3-We believe that efficient and honest government can only be secured and maintained by confining the right of suffrage strictly to the legal and bonafide citizens of the Siate and we believe that the strictest legislation should be enacted to confine the right of suffrage to this class. And we especially denounce the action of the State Republican executive and its legislative majority in disregarding the mandatory and clearly expressed will of the people announced by the adoption almost two years ago of a constitutional amendment requiring the legislature to enact a registration law which would prevent illegal votins. That such disregard was for the purpose of continuing their party in power by means of yenal, corrupt and illegal voters, is rendered the more conspicuous by the fact that the legislature has since the adoption of such amendment, convened in regular session without the enactment of such a registration law, and has also been since convened by the governor in extraordinary session under a call which permitted and required the enactment of laws creating an independent school district and other laws of relatively far less import than the securing of honest elections by the legal citizens and voters of our State, but failed to provide for the enactment of a registration law.

We declare that The crying evil in our State and the greatest menace to our civic weal is the debauchery of the bailot by means of repeating and illegal voting, which is, and has been, systematically carried on in many counties of the State by a ring of corrupt Republican officials. State and Federal, and which is rendered possible by the systematic importation of illegal voters into the State and by the Republican party's refusal to enact a registration law, as required by the constitutional amendment.

4. We further condemn the Republican

ESOPUS, N. Y., August 4.—Almost all of Judge Parker's visitors to-day were from south of Muson and Dixon's line. United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey. of Texas, was one of the first to arrive. He was accompanied by Mrs. Bailey and their son, and left Rosemount with expressions of the most cordial admiration for Judge Parker and of hopefulness as to the outcome of the campaign.

Governor A. J. Montague, of Virginia, came down from Lake George, where for several days he has been visiting George Foster Peabody, the newly appointed treasurer of the National Committee. National Committee man H. D. Clayton, Colonie E. L. Russell, with his daughter, and H. Hatcher, of Alabama, constituted the remainder of the Southern delegation. Other visitors to Judge Parker to-day were Charles R. Crane, of Chicago; Alfred Henry Lewis, the well known writer, and ira M. Black, of Kingston, N. Y.

To-night at 6:30 the steam yacht Sapolifie, which has become a familiar sight in the river off Esopus landing, brought Judge Morgan J. O'Brien and John P. McDonald from New York city.

ANNUAL ORATION

Judge Francis E. Baker Speaks on the State Corporation as a Party in the Federal Court.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
HOT SPRINGS, VA., August 4.—The convention of the State Bar Association closed with an elegant banquet to-night. Some of the leaders left for their homes this afternoon, but the most of them remained for the annual feast, which is one of the great features of the convenmain at the Hot for a few days charmed with the beautiful surroundings and the

The session of this morning was devoted chiefly to hearing a paper by Judge Francis E. Baker, of Indiana on the State Corporation and the Federal Court. It was pronounced by the lawyers to be a very able paper.

Judge Baker presides over the Seventh Federal Circuit, and is said to be the youngest United States circuit judge in this country. His father is a Federal district judge in Indiana. There is said to be no record of an instance of a son presiding over a court from which appeals are received from the decision of his father. Judge Baker is an alumius of the University of, Virginia.

But it is known that in his discussion of the matter, he took a positive stand. Likewise did Colonel Russell. Colonel Russell, as a Democrat, living outside the boundary limits of New York, is too good a politician and too same a lawyer not to un-

of the University of Virginia.

DELEGATES APPOINTED.

Upon calling the convention to order at 11:10 o'clock, President Hamilton announced the following delegates to represent the Virginia Bar Association at the International Congress of Lawyers and Jurists at St. Louis, September 28th-30th, The delegates named are as follows: Attended Congress 18 Congr The delegates named are as follows: Attorney-General W. A. Anderson, S. C. Graham, Marshall McCormick, R. B. Tunstall, Theo S. Garnett, R. B. Davis, Samuel Griffin, J. K. M. Norton, J. L. Kelly, C. F. Moore. Alternates—M. Micajah Woods, J. D. Horsley, S. V. Fulkerson, J. B. T. Thornton, W. R. Vance, G. E. Sipe, W. E. Barrett, Jackson Guy, Roger Gregory, E. E. Stickley, Mr. Hamilton then introduced Judge Francis E. Baker, of Indiana, judge of the Seventh Judicial Circuit, as the annual orator. Judge Baker in a few preparatory remarks urged Mayor as the strongest candidate. La-mont is as near Wall Street interests, as close te corporation influences that yield to campaign assessments, as Mr. Root is, and lives on the north bank of the Hud-con River, in sight of Judge Parker's residence at Rosemount. Circuit, as the annual orator, Judge Baker in a few preparatory remarks urged the lawyers before him to labor to keep up interest in their State organization. He said that when at his home his had selected a purely technical subject upon which to address the Virginia bar, but since coming to these beautiful mountains he had been almost forced to regret that he had gotten out the lyre of his earlier days and attempted to sweep its strings. Judge Baker announced as his subject, "The State Corporation as a Party in the Federal Court." It was a lawyer's addres sto lawyers. The lawlawyer's addres sto lawyers. The law-yers said it was very fine. The dozen or more ladies in the audience did not express an opinion, but they listened with close atention to the end.

LIBERAL JUDGE. Although a Federal judge, Judge Baker Although a Federal judge, Judge Baker al pears to favor granting liberal jurisdiction to the State courts as against United States courts, which is probably explained by the fact that he was a State judge before being elevated to the Federal bench. The reading of Judge laker's paper consumed about an hour and a quarter, and upon the sustained applause at its conclusion had subsided, Attorney-General Anderson presented a resolution thanking the speaker "for his What Bailey Thinks.

Senator Bailey had little to say for publication beyond the beautiful tribute to Judge Parker:

"I am delighted with Judge Parker, both with his views as a statesman and as a Democrat, and with his character as a man. I wish to say that if he is elected Democrats who go to Washington will find in their President both a representative and a friend."

Senator Bailey gave his interviewers the impression that he regards the coming campaign as crucial in three States—New York, Indiana and New Jersey.

"I differ with some of my colleagues," said he, "as to the allignment of the States in their respective columns. There are States which they call doubtful that I believe are surely Democratic, and States that they call doubtful which I believe to be surely Republican." ley, chairman of the Committee on Admissions, reported that two members of the association had been elected at a meeting of the committee yesterday—George E. Nelson, Covington, and J. Puwell Royall, Tazewell. The report was

THE BANQUET.

THE BANQUET.

The banquet to-night marked the conclusion of the annual convention. There were less than one hundred covers, a far smaller number than usual, but the eloquence was of the high standard for which the Virginia bar is famous.

Mr. Alexander Hamilton, the retiring president, presided and his felicitous specches introducing the speakers was a feature of the evening. It was hard upon 9 o'clock when the guests went into the dining hall. It was past midnight when they came out.

The first toast, "Virginia," called forth an eloquent response from Attorney-General William A. Anderson.

"Our Guest," responded to by Judge Francis B. Baker, of Indiana, was replete with humor and eloquence.

"The Bench" was responded to by H. St, George Tucker, in his happiest vein. "The American Lawyer" gave Mr. Warren G. Elliott opportunity to make an address which was a treat. Mr. Elliott is eloquent in wit and humor at least.

"The Virginian Away From Home" was responded to by Judge C. F. Moore, formerly of Alleghany county, now of New York. As a raconteur and afterdinner speaker, Judge Moore is superb. "This American Union" gave Representive William A. Jones opportunity to make an eloquent speech, which excited great applause. THE BANQUET.

SLEMP MEN WILL WIN.

The Reorganizers Will Domi nate Next State Convention.

"The Republican party in the State of Virginia will be reorganized next year when the State convention is held to nominate a Governor," said a well known local Republican yesterday, "and if indications count for anything the Slemp faction, or the reorganizers, as they are known, is going to rout the Agfaction and choose a new chair rest of the State combined. This will give them a majority of the elegates to the convention, and will insure their control. Besides these two districts, the reorganizers will make a strong fight in the Third District and will probably send an anti-Agnew delegation to the next State convention."

Chairman Williams has given no intimation as to the date for calling the District Committee together to call a district congressional convention. Henrico county and Richmond city will each have to elect a member of the District Committee when delegates to the congressional convention are chosen, and a lively fight is promised in this city.

Condemns Socialism and Endorses Trade Unions-Message to the Pope.

(By Associated Press.)

DETROIT, MICH., Aug. 4.—The American Federation of Catholic Societies today held the most important business meeting of their three-days' convention.

Pope Plus X.:
"The American Federation of Catholic Societies to-day assembled in Detroit, at its fourth annual convention, greets your as supreme pontiff with sentiments of for a happy and successful reign and humbly asks for the apostolic blessing." Resolutions Adopted.

Resolutions Adopted.

Resolutions were adopted commending the efforts of the men and women who are working to educate the negro and urging generous support of the efforts to spread the "light of Catholic truth" among these people. On the school question the resolution says:

"We propose this solution of the educational problem so far as we are concerned. Let no public moneys be paid out for religious instruction in any schools; let the educational per capita tax be disbursed for results in purely secular studies only in our Catholic schools, our teachers receiving their salaries as other teachers receive theirs; to ascertain the results let our schools be submitted to State and city examinations.

"Thus will the great principle of our government, no public moneys for sectarian purposes," be preserved intact."

Divorce and Socialism.

Divorce and Socialism.

On the divorce question the resolutions call for such laws as will effectively restrict and reduce the facility of obtaining a divorce and bring about more uniformity in the marriage and divorce laws of the different States. Socialism is condemned and close study of social questions is urged. The resolutions then say:

We heartily endorse the endeavor of "We heartily endorse the endeavor of the working men to better their material condition and to promote their temporal prosperity by the formation of trades unions, but at the same time we expect our Catholic workmen to form special associations, the object of which is to provide also for their religious and moral wants and to instruct them properly on the social questions and a practical solution thereof."
